Douglas exhibits NEW technologies at Pack Expo International 2006

Alexandria, Minnesota – July 25, 2006

Douglas Machine Inc. will exhibit new case packing, shrink-wrapping, and sleeving technologies during the upcoming Pack Expo International 2006 to be held in Chicago, Illinois, October 29 through November 2.

The new Contour™ Series S-75 Shrink-Wrapper features a flexible servo-driven film wrapping wand and a patent-pending tunnel that uses advanced heat and airflow management to deliver tightly wrapped film-wrapped trays.

New case packing technology will be shown, including the Axiom® Case Packer. The Axiom® features an innovative clean design and the latest in servo motion control for superior product and case handling.

The Apex™ Sleever features advanced servo motion control, stainless steel construction and a simple, clean design, ensuring a small footprint and less maintenance

Pack Expo 2006 attendees are invited to visit Booth #S-2223.
